

{Our scene opens up inside of a crowded room, there are several tables lined up across the room and at every one of them is a mixture of nCw wrestlers and backstage workers. There is a stage that stretches across the top of the room . On the stage is a long table with Leonard Fox, Kelly Fox, Dante Cross, Tyler Jacobs and some more of the front office members that make up the nCw governing body.}

Kelly Fox: Welcome Ladies and Gentlemen it's a great pleasure to be here before you and to be inducting a good friend of mine into the nCw Hall of Fame. It was announced several weeks ago, but due to time constraints and scheduling issues we weren't able to do the ceremony until tonight. I just recently took over nCw and it's an honor to induct Spike Kane tonight as one of my first duties. So Everybody give a big hand to the second member of the nCw Hall of Fame.... SPIKE KANE!

{At the announcement of his name, Spike Kane jumps a little. It's obvious he clearly wasn't expecting to be the second ever, and first of 2008 Hall of Fame inductee. He rises to his feet, from the table that also sits Freya Kane, Brad Kane, Lance Ryan, Jamie Ryan and Xavier Williams. He shares a hug with his sister, before turning to Brad, or Reckless Jack as nCw fans know him. The two brothers lock hands in a form of high five-esque handshake, before they share a quick hug. Spike then makes his way up onto the podium and steps up in front of the microphone.}

Spike: Wow....honestly nCw...I wasn't expecting this at all. I know a few of you out there may think I'm full of s**t by saying that, but I'm just being honest. There's a well of talent here in the nCw, and a lot of that talent helped me get to where I am today in my career. As you well know by now I've been in this business since late 1996. I've travelled the world and worked for many federations. I've captured gold left right and centre, because that's how this business worked back then. That was until I reached the much fabled, hated, loved, feared, respected and spat upon Xtreme Hardcore Federation. I know the XHF is a bit of a sore subject here, mainly because of people like myself. I walked out on the company as World Heavyweight Champion...I left and spat upon everything I'd worked so hard to achieve over two years. I came to nCw eventually, by hand of Davey Boone...another sore subject here in nCw. But you have to understand...I wouldn't be here if it wasn't for Mongo and the XHF, I wouldn't be here if it wasn't for Davey Boone. The XHF taught me how to really work in this business, how to plan a great feud with somebody and work it out in the air time you get. There's a person I met there who helped launch my XHF career, and thus my wrestling career in general...a man who showed his face briefly in nCw, but was busy as the world champ of GWC...Kevin Hardaway. Here is a man who I went through hell with...and I don't mean we were at each other's throats...I mean we both went through a lot of s**t, throughout our run in XHF and we went our separate ways but still keep in touch. I firmly believe to this day...that if Kevin Hardaway and I never met...we'd both be yester-years news already. Another person I met in XHF...is a person I talk to on a daily basis...a person who has kept me in this game. A person who inspires me on so many occasions he couldn't even know...my brother, Brad "Reckless Jack" Kane. Without him...I'd be nothing in this world.

{Spike runs a hand through his hair and fixes his tie as he tries to keep his composure.}

Spike: But I digress. XHF led me to nCw, and made me the man I am today...I came to nCw eager to make my mark, and it was Davey Ortega who offered to help me. Davey took me under his wing, for lack of a better term...but he knew what I was capable of, and soon enough it was time to show that. Jack Manson approached me to tell me we were set to feud. We were given creative freedom and we rocked the house with it. It's something that I like to think is the best feud nCw has seen yet...it spilled over into last month's pay per view; Sovereign and if my ears doth deceive me it ain't over yet! Sadly, as you know Davey fell upon hard times and I had to step into his shoes, take his place and Lance Ryan couldn't have been anymore of a better person, worker and I'd like to think friend. We worked hard on our feud, working around the fact it was initially meant for Davey...and we provided some quality TV programming. The rest is history....there are people sitting here in this hall that make me love what I'm doing, they make me proud whenever I'm booked against them, or see them triumph over something that they never thought they could. Like Dave Holland winning the Coliseum match, Joe Everyman becoming National Champion. They are both good long time friends of mine, and it warms my heart to see them still doing what we all love to do.

{Spike takes a sip of water from a bottle on the podium, all this talking making the man

Spike: Thank you nCw. From the bottom of my heart...being inducted into the Hall of Fame means more to me than you could know. After a decade of this business, countless championships...this is the first time ever a federation has acknowledged me and my work, acknowledged the effort, blood, sweat and tears that go into what we do. A lot of the workers here know me...are my friends and have been for a long time. People like Dave, Milo, and Jake. XwF Alumni if you will....we've come a long way, to a federation that can at last handle us all, and prosper from our talents. New Championship Wrestling...I was once the face of you, and it would be my pleasure to one day do so again, as a Hall of Famer...I love this business, and I love this company! Thank you to everybody who's ever stood by me, ever offered words of encouragement...and thank you for making me your Hall of Fame inductee!

Spike: Sadly though, with good times come the bad, and with good news comes some bad news. Recently I have picked up an injury during my tag team match against the Smokin' Aces...I've tried wrestling with it, but I just can't be myself. So I'm afraid as of this notice, Spike Kane...is out of action for now in the nCw...but you can bet you, with the influx of talent in this federation and the people who WANT to work with me, I'll be back soon, better than ever! To Angel....we'll go soon buddy. I promise, it means a lot that you want to work with me, it really does....again everybody, thank you. I love this business so much, and I love you all!

{Tears of joy begin to form in Spike's eyes as Reckless Jack and Freya Kane climb up onto the stage to celebrate with their brother. Soon enough several members of the crowd; Lance Ryan, Jack Manson, The Ace, Dave Holland, Davey Ortega, Joe Everyman and Sexy Jason most notably are on the stage shaking hands with Spike Kane who has the biggest smile on his face we have ever seen. Kelly and Leonard stand up and hand Spike his plague as everybody in attendance is on their feet cheering and clapping. Kelly stands back at the podium.}

Kelly Fox: It's been a wonderful evening tonight. Thank you everybody for tuning in, and thank you to everybody who was able to make it here tonight, God bless.

{With that the scene fades away with a final view of Spike staring at his plague with tears of joy running down his face.}
